

// New Children's Books Rights Guide 2021

from Germany, Austria and Switzerland

// Rights Guide 2021

This Foreign Rights catalogue of children's books from Germany, Austria and Switzerland is an important companion for those publishers who are interested in acquiring rights of German language children's books. It contains a selection of new releases published by the members of the Association of Children's Book Publishers in Germany, Austria and Switzerland (avj).

The avj was founded in 1950 by 13 publishing companies. Since then its membership has increased to over 100 German language publishing houses and imprints. The intention of the avj is to support the promotion of children's literature and literature for young adults within the book trade, libraries and families and provide information about this sector with the help of brochures.

For further information you can visit our website www.avj-online.de, contact the individual publishers or visit us in Hall 30 at this year's Bologna Book Fair.

We are looking forward to seeing you!

Sofabanditen oder Die verrückte Befreiung der Hühner
Illustrated by Barbara Jung
Spring 2021, 176 pages, 14.6 x 20.7 cm
Hardcover
Ages 7+
All rights available

Ada sits angrily in the moving van waiting for her parents, when suddenly a sheep jumps into the driver's seat. Lilli, the sheep with a nose ring and leopard pattern, hijacks the van along with Ada in order to free the chickens from the chicken factory. Free the chickens! For Ada and the daredevil sheep, a wild and crazy journey into adventure begins. As it happens, luck is always on her side even when Ada meets Pepper, a boy who lives in an old observatory, on the way. A wonderfully comical story told with lots of funny pictures.

Lea-Lina Oppermann

Fürchtet uns, wir sind die Zukunft
Spring 2021, 291 pages, 13.4 x 20.7 cm
Hardcover
Ages 14+
All rights available

When piano student Theo meets the charismatic Aida, his world view collapses. Aida fights along with ZUKUNFT (FUTURE) against the power structures at the academy. The students denounce abuses, want to shake things up and celebrate life. Fascinated, Theo lets himself be carried away by Aida's fiery speeches and follows the daring actions of ZUKUNFT (FUTURE). Until he experiences something terrible. What remains of their ideals and his feelings? Theo stands against Aida and will fight in his own way for himself and ZUKUNFT (FUTURE).

Gerda Raidt
This Is My World, too
Das ist auch meine Welt!
Illustrated by Gerda Raidt
Spring 2021, 112 pages, 16.5 x 22 cm
Hardcover
Ages 7+
All rights available

The climate crisis, animal welfare, justice. Children have a clear position on these issues and demand change. When is something finally going to happen and why is it so difficult for adults to change? Gerda Raidt explores these children's questions through many pictures and short texts and reveals the global dimensions behind our food, our clothing, our mobility and energy production. In doing so, it becomes clear that processes that happen "far away" are directly related to our actions here and now. And in spite of obstacles, a new start is possible.

Katharina Weiss-Tuider
Expedition Polarstern –
On the Tracks of Climate Change
 Illustrated by Christian Schneider
 Spring 2021, 128 pages, 24.0 x 32.0 cm
 Hardcover
 Ages 10+
 All rights available

It's the largest polar expedition of our time. Moored to an ice floe, the German research icebreaker Polarstern went on a year-long journey drifting through the Arctic Ocean. On board were more than 600 crew members from 20 countries researching how the climate has been changing. For the polar region is its "engine room" – whatever happens here affects the whole planet.

"Expedition Polarstern" tells of the people on board, the thrilling endeavour itself and its historical predecessors. It provides key information about how the Arctic came to be, and explains what each of us can do to slow down climate change and make the Earth's future – our future – a little bit better.

Vera Schmidt
My Adventure Comic –
Pug and Kat Discover the Woods
 Illustrated by Vera Schmidt
 Spring 2021, 80 pages, 17.0 x 24.0 cm
 Hardcover
 Ages 7+
 All rights available

Pug and Kat are the best of friends. But while Kat is always looking for the next adventure, Pug prefers to lounge around on the sofa. When Kat convinces him to come on a walk through the woods, he's bored – until the friends meet Rocky. The laid-back roebuck takes them on a thrilling trip: he shows them the magic of the forest, how trees communicate, where you can find the tastiest elf cakes, and how beehives are organised. A magical discovery tour into the woodland realm.

Vol. 2 to be published in May 2021!

Reinhard Friedl
Joy Lives in Your Heart
 Illustrated by Maria Over
 Spring 2021, 40 pages, 24.5 x 24.5 cm
 Hardcover
 Ages 4+
 All rights available

What does it feel like to be happy or sad? The heart is far more than just a muscle; it's the place where all your emotions live and feelings are born. Sometimes it's as quiet as a mouse, sometimes it pounds so hard you can feel it right in your throat. And when you place your hand on the left side of your chest, you can feel it beating. It's like a good friend, who is always by your side, ready to give you advice. You just have to listen.

A moving and philosophical book about our most important organ: our heart!

The apartment building where twins Nikosch and Nini live is home to many families, which means there are lots of other children to play with: it's a close-knit community. But suddenly all the doors remain closed and nobody is supposed to go out – because of this virus. School takes place online and it's both boring and stressful with the family at home all the time. But then the siblings notice a light flashing in the building opposite: S.O.S., night after night after night ...

 Hardcover
 Ages 10+
 All rights available

Lucy Longfinger is the proud daughter of thieves – master thieves in sunny California who make their living by taking from the rich (of course!). Life is quite comfortable but then gangster boss Ratto wants to recruit Lucy into his (not so gallant) service as she is already well known for her talent... and if she does not comply, he will feed her parents to the fishes... Ahh! There must be a way around this, and Lucy is sure to find it (and have some fun on the way!).
 Luckily, she finds an accomplice who shares her preferences, and even likes her favourite ice-cream (mango with chili)...
 First volume of a new series for strong girls!

Blackberry Fox
Brombeerfuchs
 Autumn 2020, 384 pages, 14.0 x 21.5 cm
 Hardcover
 Ages 10+
 All rights available

"There was a time when humans and fairies could travel back and forth between their different worlds with the greatest of ease." But times have since changed, and the dangers have been forgotten. Two children, the worldly Portia and the shy Ben, are tricked by Robin Goodfellow (a shapeshifter who can take the form of a fox) into opening a door to the fairy tale world for him – just to get trapped there themselves.
 A magical story reminiscent of "The Neverending Story" or the Narnia books – at the same time, a true original with a diverse cast of characters and a unique narrative voice.

One fine day Benedict doesn't want to be Daddy's "Benny" anymore, nor Granny's "Little Ben" and certainly not Mummy's "Bunny Ben"! So he decides to change his name. Every day of the week he wants to be somebody else, someone new, someone nobody has met before. On Monday Grumpy Green, on Tuesday Smelly Spleen, on Wednesday Creepy Crawly ... and so on. Every day of the week Benedict chooses a new name for himself, until ... until, come Sunday he's quite tired of being someone else every day and decides to be Benedict again. "Little Ben" is a charming picture book about a little boy's wish to change and yet remain himself.

Adalbert Stifter
Rock Crystal
Bergkristall
Illustrated by Maren Briswalter
Autumn 2020, 32 pages, 29 x 23.5 cm
Picturebook
Ages 5+
All rights available

On Christmas Eve, two children, Conrad and Sanna, leave their grandmother's house in an Alpine village and get lost in the mountain snow. They become trapped among the rock crystals of the frozen glacier and are forced to seek refuge in a rock cave. Eventually the snowfall subsides and a night sky wonder of light and color fills the air ... »Rock Crystal«, the famous novella by Austrian writer Adalbert Stifter (1805-1868), is a beautiful parable of faith, hope, love, and the force of Mother Nature.

Terri's parents are separated. Each week the 13-year-old raises her flag in another TERRitory. So far so good. As if! Suddenly everywhere around her people are hit by lightnings of love: her mother falls in love – with a woman! And her best friend Nina isn't certifiably sane anymore either. Lightnings, ascendants and molecules – everyone is somehow suddenly struck by this thing called love and it dawns on Terri: Everything is somehow different now, but somehow it's awesome! ... A wonderfully tongue-in-cheek debut about the huge chaos of feelings with a good dose of rainbows.

Does she love him? A gorgeous love story to make you melt

- Debut novel by a massively talented 20-year-old
- Fabulous YA love story, told from two different perspectives
- Enjoy the fantastic follow-up, too! ("Know You Again")

Student June is beside herself with excitement: Kian, her best friend from schooldays, is returning from Australia to their home town of Bath, and is moving into her shared student house. Time, however, hasn't stood still since he went away. Kian – an erstwhile chubby schoolboy – now has muscles and tattoos, and June – previously somewhat hyper – has become shy and reserved. However, their mutual attraction has moved beyond just friendship: there's a huge spark between them and June finds Kian's flirting almost impossible to resist. If only they could overcome the secrets of their past...

- Volume 2&3 are coming up with new and exciting cases for the Animal Police!

One morning, Flopsion the red panda wakes up and discovers that her friend Tjalle the streaked tenrec, has disappeared. Flopsion scents a crime, and leaves her safe cage to try to rescue Tjalle. In the process, she encounters Fridolin, a mini dwarf pony. He joins in with her search, but instead of finding Tjalle, they find the injured blue tit Meili. Together, the three of them seek sanctuary in a disused police car. However, the grumpy Syrian hamster Jack has already taken up residence there and doesn't want to share his home with uninvited guests. But when they find an important clue pointing to the whereabouts of Tjalle, the four very different animals join forces. Only together can they solve the mystery – as THE ANIMAL POLICE!

Everything children want to know about water.

- The science behind water, told as a children's story
- Massively on-trend topic of water and sustainability

Sara is on holiday, and it's raining cats and dogs. But where does all the water come from? Leon dives off the diving board – or does he? Water can be extremely painful. Friedrich wonders about a stream by his school. Nora would like to know if there is water in the desert. But that's just the start of it. Why are tears salty? What happens when babies are baptized? What proportion of our bodies is made up of water? What is virtual water? All these important questions are answered clearly in this easy-to-read text.

In this entertaining search-and-find play book, some animals are really well hidden: Only under the light of the magic flashlight will little chickens hatch from the eggs, glow-worms begin to glow and little colorful fish swim through the ocean. Each of the five double pages depicts a different habitat. The small images on the vignette strip at the edge of each page invite children to take a closer look. And with the help of the flashlight and a little bit of skill, they can be found in the large search-and-find image as well. Short sentences accompanying the images present a great mix of little clues for searching, basic information about the animals and fun distinctive features.

Powerful, immortal and mysterious. Valkyries are the descendants of the Nordic gods and the only ones who can save humanity from final destruction. Their mission: to accompany souls of fallen heroes to Valhalla. Blair, who as the daughter of a Valkyrie has no powers of her own, has nothing to do with all this – until her mother dies in a car accident. But Blair is sure that it was no accident but murder. However, nobody wants to believe her, not even her best friend Ryan, for whom she has long felt more than friendship. On her own, Blair sets out on a search for the truth and soon realizes that her fate is intimately linked to that of the Valkyries – and to that of Ryan.

Sea creatures and icebergs, storm surges and deep-sea trenches – the oceans are full of fascinating knowledge adventures! With this WAS IST WAS book, children aged 8 years and up explore the diversity of these water worlds. Marine biologists give a compact introduction to oceanography. Then it goes down with research divers to the underwater volcanoes. Exciting facts bring to life the time of the great sailing ships, when captains and sailors still believed in sea monsters. Clear texts, exciting interviews and stunning pictures make clear what is being done for the preservation of the oceans and what great challenges climate change poses to mankind. A fascinating topic, comprehensibly and vividly described!

Bd. 1: Die geheimnisvolle Villa
 Illustrated by Sabine Rothmund
 Spring 2021, 72 pages, 15,8 x 21,5 cm
 Hardcover
 Ages 8+
 All rights available

By chance, the inquisitive student Nano meets the ingenious Dr. X and his inventive assistant Micro Minitec. In their laboratory, they proudly present Nano their downsizing machine. Fascinated, the boy marvels at the “Turbobeamer” and curiously presses the button on a remote control. Seconds later, Nano and the likewise shrunken rabbit Rappel are in a miniature submarine directly in the mouth of Dr. X's assistant. An adventurous journey through the human body begins... The series “Der kleine Medicus” was written by the well-known author and physician Prof. Dr. Dietrich Grönemeyer. Each volume offers exciting entertainment, peppered with well-founded expert knowledge about the inside of the human body.

Why Grey Cells Can Be Pink Too.
Discover the Human Brain
Warum graue Zellen auch mal rosa sind.
Spannende Fragen und Antworten rund um dein Gehirn
 Illustrated by Ruth Koch
 Autumn 2020, 128 pages, 20,5 x 25,5 cm
 Hardcover
 Ages 10+
 All rights available

In this unique non-fiction book brain researcher Prof. Dr. Michael Madeja explains together with the brain cells Purki and Pyra how the human brain works. They present the structure of the brain, show how the brain is constantly changing and why we can keep on learning. We get to know how optical illusions work and what are the benefits of brain training. The book also gives an update on current research for example on diseases like Alzheimer's. An amusing non-fiction book that not only gives young researchers an understanding of the biology of grey (or pink) cells!

Little Major Tom Space School
Vol. 2: Artificial Intelligence
Der kleine Major Tom. Space School
Bd. 2: Künstliche Intelligenz
 Illustrated by Stefan Lohr
 Autumn 2020, 72 pages, 20,3 x 25,5 cm
 Hardcover
 Ages 8+
 All rights available

School might be boring sometimes... but not on Space Camp 1! Here Little Major Tom and his friends learn about space research, robotics and the wonders of nature. What does “artificial intelligence” (AI) mean? Where is it found in our everyday life? And will humanoid robots ever be able to completely replace humans? After a look back into the past, when people dreamed of independent machines, the book shows the possibilities of Artificial Intelligence in Smart Technologies or Medical Sciences. Young readers also get an impression of the future and the dangers of these new technologies. Great photos, funny illustrations and exciting experiments offer additional knowledge and fun.

"So, how are you feeling?" Sometimes there's no easy answer. There are simply so many feelings and emotions. Every day can be a rollercoaster of emotions, from anger to sadness, from jealousy to stubbornness, from fear to happiness. Every now and then you even discover a feeling you never had before, such as the "fresh bed linen feeling" or the "sitting next to you feeling". When it comes to feelings, you need to take them seriously, but not always too seriously! A book that explores feelings and emotions – and how to deal with them.
