RIGHTS GUIDE 2022 from Germany,
Austria and Switzerland

// New Children's Books Rights Guide 2022

from Germany, Austria and Switzerland

This Foreign Rights catalogue of children's books from Germany, Austria and Switzerland is an important companion for those publishers who are interested in acquiring rights of German language children's books. It contains a selection of new releases published by the members of the Association of Children's Book Publishers in Germany, Austria and Switzerland (avj).

The avj was founded in 1950 by 13 publishing companies. Since then its membership has increased to over 100 German language publishing houses and imprints. The intention of the avj is to support the promotion of children's literature and literature for young adults within the book trade, libraries and families and provide information about this sector with the help of brochures.

For further information you can visit our website www.avj-online.de or contact the individual publishers.

// This digital edition of our Foreign Rights Guide 2022 is created in cooperation with Book2look.

Enhanced with excerpts of the original German versions of most of the featured books and additional material like sample translations or brand presentations (if provided by the publisher), this digital edition offers you ample opportunities to gather information about our members current Foreign Rights Highlights.

Labor Atelieregemeinschaft
That Will Certainly Be Great!
Das wird bestimmt ganz toll!
Illustrated by Labor Atelieregemeinschaft
Autumn 2021, 160 pages, 17.0 x 23.0 cm
Flap brochure
Ages 6+
Rights sold: Chinese

Children like to imagine their future; they wish for an animal kindergarten or real amphibian skin, dream of "roller coasters instead of motorways" or of chewing gum against sadness.

This book is a smorgasbord of professions, family plans, inventions, utopias. It is not only full of crazy ideas and imaginative life plans, but it is also highly contagious: it makes children want to spin around without restraint in order to shape their world.

Philip Waechter
A Day with Friends
Ein Tag mit Freunden
Illustrated by Philip Waechter
Autumn 2021, 28 pages, 26.5 x 23.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 4+
Rights sold: Dutch, English, Korean, Russian, Spanish

Raccoon wants to bake an apple pie. But because he has no eggs, he goes to Fox, who needs a ladder. They walk to Badger. He has everything. But even he needs help – from Bear. So the four of them (along with Crow) move on through meadows, nibble blackberries and find Bear with a fishing rod at the brook.

Jörg Isermeyer
Badger and Rocket – Off to the City!
Dachs und Rakete. Ab in die Stadt!
Illustrated by Kai Schüttler
Spring 2022, 120 pages, 16.8 x 24.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 5+
All rights available

One morning there is an excavator in front of Mr. Badger's building. Mr. Badger is an inventor and Rocket is his best friend. A nature adventure park is to be built here, and they have to get out! Immediately! "And now? Where do we go?" asks Mr. Badger.

A humorous read-aloud story about moving to the city.

Mieke Scheier
All Work, or What?!
Alles Arbeit oder was?!
Illustrated by Mieke Scheier
Autumn 2021, 40 pages, 26 x 36 cm
Hardcover
Ages 5+
Rights sold: Chinese, Korean

Mornings are hectic in the family and on the streets because everyone has to get going. Work calls! But what does "going to work" really mean? Some occupations are easy to see: people marvel at the crane operator, working at dizzy heights, and the noisy garbage collector in any case. But what does one do all day in an office? Inspired by children's questions, Mieke Scheier casts a multi-perspective look at Work. Her tiny pictures and concise texts are curiously questioning, amazingly blunt and delightfully humorous. A working pleasure for the whole family.

Kristina Scharmacher-Schreiber
What Is Home?
Was ist Zuhause?
Illustrated by Lena Hesse
Spring 2022, 80 pages, 16.8 x 22.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 7+
All rights available

At grandma's you can eat on the sofa, at your best friend's everyone plays in the kitchen and your cousin has two rooms, one at each parent's place. Every child knows that homes can be very different. What defines them are familiar smells and sounds, familiar language or small rituals. What about people who don't have a permanent home? Who have to or want to leave their home? Can you choose where you live? And how does one begin to feel at home there? A thought-provoking non-fiction book about how we can shape our coexistence in an inclusive and environmentally sustainable way.

A Little Big Trip Around the World
Eine kleine große Reise um die Welt
Illustrated by Julia Regett

ISBN 978-3-948877-18-7
Spring 2022, 32 pages, 22 x 22 cm
Hardcover
Ages 3+
All rights available

Mara is a little squirrel with a big dream: She would like to travel the whole world. From the deepest sea to the very highest mountain. The other squirrels do not believe in her plans. "It's a big world, Mara," they say. "And you are small. Better stay here at home in your tree house, safe." But Mara is not discouraged. Fortunately! Soon she discovers the wonders of the world on the back of Arthur the albatross.

A picture book about the colourful diversity of our planet, worthy of protection, that encourages you to believe in big dreams – no matter how small you are.

Anke Hopfengart
Wonderful World
Wunderbare Welt
Illustrated by Anke Hopfengart

ISBN 978-3-948877-05-7
Autumn 2020, 21 pages, 30 x 21.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 3+
All rights available

What place does a tiny ant have in our world? And is it really tiny? How do we look at everything and what do we look at? Anke Hopfengart creates a world all of her own with her words and illustrations. The clear colours and shapes of the serigraph harmonise images with the melody of speech. This book encourages little people to talk about big things and wonder about the planet we all live on.

Dorothee Eva Herrmann
The Lucky Pig Seeks Happiness
Das Glücksschwein sucht das Glück
Illustrated by Dorothee Eva Herrmann

ISBN 978-3-948877-15-6
Autumn 2021, 32 pages, 20 x 20 cm
Hardcover
Ages 4+
All rights available

The lucky pig is unhappy. He always brings luck to everyone else, but never has any luck himself. What can he do? Ladybug, Lucky Fairy and Chimney Sweep don't know what to do either. Then the lucky charms meet little Felix – and suddenly being happy as a pig in clover seems within reach.

An artfully illustrated picture book with an important message: Happiness looks different for each and every one of us.

Sandra Niermeyer
A Book for Hansi – A Pretty True Story
Ein Buch für Hansi – Eine ziemlich wahre Geschichte
Illustrated by Linda Mieleck

ISBN 978-3-948877-20-0
Spring 2022, 32 pages, 20 x 24.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 4+
All rights available

Hansi is amazed: Someone actually wants to write a book about his life! During an extensive mud bath, the pig grandpa reminisces. Memories of years on slippery slatted floors, without wallows and sunshine on the snout. But also to his friend Helmut, who finally bought him free and brought him to the animal sanctuary. Memories of happy walks, banana snacks and belly rubs. Of a pig life that was so beautiful! Actually, Hansi only cares about one thing when it comes to this book: Mud should be splashed inside – on every single page.

With wonderful prose and artful illustrations, Sandra Niermeyer and Linda Mieleck tell the touching life story of a real character pig.

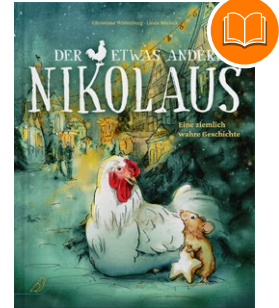

Iris Fedrizzi
The Egg with the Crack
Das Ei mit dem Knacks
Illustrated by Linda Mieleck

ISBN 978-3-948877-14-9
Spring 2021, 26 pages, 15.5 x 15.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 3+
All rights available

The Easter egg Anto is forced to realise: He has quite a crack and is also hollow! Yet he doesn't despond. When he instead rolls out of the egg carton onto the meadow full of zest, his friends are skeptical. The rabbit girl Pasqua finally finds him exhausted but happy in the meadow. She has the cracks repaired by the skilled snail Kintsugi. The golden joined fractures on the green colour make Anto the most beautiful and special egg on the Easter tree.

A story that shows why being different doesn't make us less valuable. To the contrary: Often, it's our little flaws and quirks that make us special.

Christiane Wittenburg
The Slightly Different Santa Claus – A Pretty True Story
Der etwas andere Nikolaus – Eine ziemlich wahre Geschichte
Illustrated by Linda Mieleck

ISBN 978-3-948877-17-0
Autumn 2021, 36 pages, 20 x 24.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 4+
All rights available

Rooster Claus was fed up: Three weeks before Christmas, of all times, his owner abandoned him all alone on the outskirts of the city. And only because he cannot lay eggs! In search of a new task, the rooster roams the streets. But no matter what he tries – there's no place for him in the Christmas whirl. When he is just about to give up, he meets a few excited chicken ladies in the high snow. Can they help him?

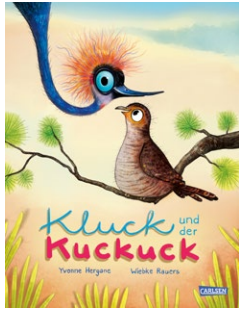

A pretty true picture story that tells of the great fortune of finding one's place in the world. Rooster Claus, who on 6 December 2019 found his way all alone to the Sentana Animal Sanctuary, has an important message in his pack: You are important and valuable, simply because you are you!

Lisa, Fredi and a Week Full of Adventure
Illustrated by Katja Wehner
Spring 2022, 72 pages, 19.5 x 22.4 cm
Hardcover
Ages 4-7
All rights available

'Growing old' and 'dementia' as part of an animal story? Yes, it works! And it's very refreshing.

School holidays at their grandparents' retirement home? Lisa and Fredi are not amused at all. But in the end they spend a surprisingly exciting week with the old badger couple.

Each chapter of the book tells a new adventure – perfect for bedtime stories!

Ilona Einwohlt
All the Crap About Separation and How to Deal with It
Illustrated by Regina Kehn
Spring 2022, 160 pages, Hardcover
Ages 7+
All rights available

When parents split up, children often don't know how to help themselves. This book provides guidance in the form of exercises, texts and tips but may also be used as a diary.

Written by an author who is well-known for advisory literature, the book was developed together with experts like child psychologists.

An encouraging guidebook that stands side by side with children (and their parents) who must deal with separation, divorce or patchwork families.

Minna Melon – Wonderful Stories from Truthful Woods
Illustrated by Mareike Ammersken
Spring 2022, 128 pages, 17.0 x 24.0 cm
Hardcover
Ages 6+
All rights available

Adventures for every evening!

On a normal day in Truthful Woods the animals do what they always do. Hardly anyone notices that something wondrous is about to happen. A strange figure appears at the edge of the forest pulling a heavily laden handcart. Only Zara the squirrel sees the brown rat, dressed in elegant trousers and a shawl and smelling of the big city, set up a stage. On a sign it says, “Adventures for Every Evening!” – and Minna Melon is about to change the animals’ lives.

A wonderfully poetic book about the inspiring power of imagination.

Glitzer für Everyone!
Illustrated by Eefje Kuijl
Spring 2022, 32 pages, 21.0 x 27.0 cm
Picturebook
Ages 4+
All rights available

Only for girls? Only for boys?

Paul finds a glittering crown in kindergarten. But his friend Tarek says that only girls play with glittery things. So what will happen if a boy does it anyway? Will there be an explosion? Or will he turn into a glittery star? Paul and Tarek are brave and test it out, even though the other children laugh. Tilly decides to be brave as well: She defends Paul and Tarek! Because girls are brave and strong as well, of course!

A picture book that encourages all children – boys AND girls – to be true to themselves, and invites us to question “typical” gender roles.

Stephanie Schneider
Make Way, My Deer!
Illustrated by Susan Batori
Spring 2022, 32 pages, 21.0 x 27.0 cm
Picturebook
Ages 4+
All rights available

There is space for everyone here!

The deer have found a secret spot while cruising with their nice convertible. And of course, they want it all to themselves. However, more and more animals come to the lake: they swim, play and picnic. It is such a hustle and bustle, and the deer don’t like it at all! Yet, when it suddenly starts to rain and the seats of their precious convertible get wet, the other animals come together to their aid with blankets, sunshades and towels. And the deer realise, feeling quite ashamed of their behaviour, that it is much better when all the animals come together.

A funny picture book about the important everyday issues of tolerance and sharing.

We humans need community. We experience it in partnership, family and friendship. But we also need it if we want to shape the future of our society well. In this book, eight children reflect together on what makes our togetherness special. Their insights are full of profundity, sometimes funny, often touching. With their unbiased view, they make us think. About ourselves, our fellow human beings and what is important to us.

Women's vote. An ongoing fight all around the world

For some, voting is a right. For others, a duty. It certainly is an empowerment tool, and has been denied to many for centuries. In this reference book about women's right to vote, Caroline Stevan explains to children why and how individuals all around the world decided to fight – or are still fighting today – for women's suffrage. Ten portraits of trailblazing women show how they helped change society's image on the subject, while a historical timeline pins women's vote on the map. A full chapter is dedicated to women in politics, a career young girls often neglect or still don't feel up to nowadays.

10-year-old Clem is annoyed. He has to go on a class trip to the dusty local museum and on top of that, he is then forced to work in a team with hyperactive Bahira. Can it get any worse? Yes, it can! Bahira demolishes an old painting, the children decode a cipher and a dragon is (almost) accidentally brought to life. The fact that a group of creepy strangers then chases the children and their unusual pet doesn't exactly diminish the problems. Now the only solution is a secret trip to La Dragonera, the dragon island. And that's where the real adventure begins for Clem, Bahira and the creature from another time ...

The Little Yellow House
Das kleine gelbe Haus
Illustrated by Claudia Burmeister
Spring 2022, 112 pages, 16.7 x 23.9 cm
Hardcover
Ages 7+
All rights available

It can't go on like this. No one pays attention to it – and besides, everyone quarrels and is only interested in themselves. The little yellow house therefore decides to leave its family and find a new home as a house. But in its search for the best of all locations, it does not immediately make the right decisions. A reason to give up? No! Because every place it settles in has something good as well as something bad. It courageously continues its search, always open to new things. It gets to know different landscapes and the animals living there. And at the end of an adventurous journey, it finally finds its place. Would you like to know where it is ...?

"The Little Yellow House" is a playful children's book about conflicts and solutions, courage and gentleness, which is imaginatively complemented and expanded by Claudia Burmeister's expressive pictures.

Friendship Book. Getting to Know Animals and Protecting Wildlife
Freundschaftsbuch. Tiere kennenlernen und schützen
Autumn 2021, 112 pages, 22.5 x 22 cm
Hardcover
Ages 6+
All rights available

Where would we all be without our good friends? And what would this world be without all the wonderful animals on the different continents and with all their special features?

The atmospheric pictures by Eva Jöckel and the appealing graphics by Sandra Theumert are combined with the entertaining and informative texts by the two authors to create an artfully designed friendship book. In this way, children learn interesting facts about endangered animal species and how to protect them. Furthermore, the children can fill in the fun questionnaire, write a little bit about themselves and share their interests.

Alia suddenly learns that her father has cancer, and this changes her life completely. A touching children's book that very authentically portrays how children think and often blame themselves for illnesses and try to do everything right. At the same time, it is a cheerful book that allows positive thoughts and enjoyment of life, despite the threatening illness. With wonderful colored illustrations inside.

One Saturday evening, the door of Henry's bedroom opens, and his parents come in with some unexpected guests. "Surprise!" Henry's mum calls out cheerfully. "Someone has come for a sleepover! This is Enzo." Every child has been in this situation before. Parents always tell them to play with strange kids, all because the parents know each other. You don't have to become best friends, but you do have to find a way of getting on with the other kid for a while. At least Enzo is a good storyteller. Henry is enchanted as he listens to Enzo's story of how he came to own a teeny-tiny bonsai sperm whale. He must have made it all up, right? Or not?

"In the middle of the forest was a small pond. Lots of animals came here because they enjoyed being by the water. One day, lots of houses sprang up around the pond. It was harder and harder to get to the waterside. Far and wide, no bushes or trees to rest under, and no juicy herbs to make the animals strong. 'We have to do something!' they decided, and so they came up with a plan." An utopian tale by Linda Wolfsgruber.

The garden where this story is set is large and wild. It's a very old garden. Huge trees and strange flowers grow here. There are tiny beetles and large spiders, wild cats and cheeky birds too. In the middle of the garden stands a small, old house, and in this house live Lille and her grandma. Then, one morning, Lille finds a giant whale lying there. On Lille's bike, of all places! He's in a bad mood too. In Sabine Rufener's debut children's book, the girl and the whale gradually find out how to live together. Until the whale's yearning for the sea gets greater while it gets ever smaller...

Spring 2022, 28 pages, 20.5 x 24.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 5+
All rights available

Late every summer, Dad starts to get really absentminded. He doesn't sing as much as normal. He starts grumbling and arguing. The reason? Gran's birthday is in September, and a son has to go and see his mother on her birthday. But Dad says, "Monsters don't need visits." His daughter, on the other hand, thinks it's pretty exciting to have a monster for a gran and she does her best to persuade Dad to go. Does this gran have long claws? Can she spew flames? Does she serve hot chocolate with frog's eyes floating in it? After much hesitation and second thoughts, father and daughter knock on Gran's door – and everything turns out very differently than expected.

Arthur's family moved to a house on the edge of the woods because it was nice and peaceful there. What Arthur never imagined was how soon this peace would be broken. All of a sudden, the goat belonging to his new friends starts to speak. Emperor Caesar Napoleon Alexander the Great, to give the animal its full title, has all kinds of lordly wishes that keep the three children on their toes. But the chaos only really starts when the friends' fathers start arguing over a bit of woodland. The two men couldn't be less alike. Then again, maybe an imperial goat can help them put aside their differences?

Pippa in Paris (Vol. 1)
Pippa in Paris (Band 1)
Illustrated by Marine Ludin
Spring 2022, 160 pages, 14.0 x 21.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 7+
All rights available

Pippa has something really great planned: a weekend in Paris with her family! Lots of things happen on such a trip: Daddy ordered very strange dishes in the restaurant, even though his French is sooo good, and on the very first evening, her brother Nick met a French princess. The big question is: Will Pippa really dare to attend the painting course in the Louvre Museum all by herself? She really wants to become an artist, but sometimes you have to be pretty brave to do so.

The Wonderful Florentine Feelgood. A Wish Seldom Comes Alone (Vol. 1)
Die wunderbare Florentine Feiertag. Ein Wunsch kommt selten allein (Band 1)
Illustrated by Nina Dulleck
Spring 2022, 160 pages, 14.0 x 21.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 8+
All rights available

In the small town of Forest Hill, most of the inhabitants are very happy and it's safe to say that this is down to the wonderful Florentine Feelgood! She has made it her business to fulfil heartfelt wishes and solve problems as best she can, especially for the children living in the town. The children hang their wishes on the branches of Florentine's apple tree in her back garden – this way she knows where her help is urgently needed. The tree is also home to the trusting robin Peep, who actively helps Florentine in her tasks. In each volume, Florentine fulfils small and large wishes in her unconventional manner. And when she has once again managed to make everyone happy, Florentine fires up the old crêpe oven in her back garden and invites everyone round to celebrate.

Lowinda Dandelion and the Magical Garden (Vol.1)
Lowinda Löwenzahn und die magische Pusteblume (Band 1)
Illustrated by Miriam Koch
Spring 2022, 144 pages, 14.0 x 21.5 cm
Hardcover
Ages 8+
All rights available

Paula and Luke can hardly believe it! Not only are they the only children in the school gardening group, but the plot of land is completely overgrown! They would really like to get rid of their teacher Mr Peartree, but then they meet the flower fairy Lowinda Dandelion and discover that the school garden is home to many magical creatures. Instead of weeding, the two of them do everything they can to maintain the magic of the garden. And that turns out to be very challenging because Mr Peartree has suddenly disappeared off the face of the earth, and the new teacher, Mrs Curser, hates weeds. Might Paula and Luke's dandelion wish have anything to do with Mr Peartree's disappearance? Lowinda, Paula and Luke have to undo the magic as quickly as possible ...

Once Upon A Future – Tales from a Distant World
Future Fairy Tales – Geschichten aus einer anderen Welt
Illustrated by 10 young illustrators
Spring 2022, 272 pages, Hardcover
Ages 13+
All rights available

What a pleasure to read! What fun!
Holly-Jane Rahlens unleashes all her expertise and creativity with each of these highly original fairy tale retellings. Whether it be Cinderella, Rapunzel or Little Red Riding Hood, she skillfully teases the essence out of each tale, reimagining it with an intriguing, futuristic perspective. These are stories of subtle humor, emotional truth and inventive spirit, yet each one is defined by its own style, genre and narrator, whether it be a diary, a short story, screen play, or blog. And remarkably, right before our eyes, a complex but heartening future world emerges that will resonate with readers of all ages.
An innovative fairy tale collection for lovers of storytelling everywhere!

A wild rollercoaster ride around the world and through time: With this book, children can discover pyramids, ghost ships and Area 51. They travel to the most beautiful places and marvel at natural wonders like huge waterfalls, sand dunes as high as houses and fantastic beaches. Thanks to many graphics and easy-to-understand texts, children also learn how the earth was formed and how it has changed over millions of years. This leads directly to the important topics of our time such as climate change and species extinction. Because that is what is special about this book – it links geology and geography, biology, physics and history with our life today in an entertaining, age-appropriate way!

Duckie is a true panicmonger, always fearing the worst. Even a little outing with the mouse, to the new beaver's lodge, is an extremely risky venture, in Duckie's opinion! What if the weather suddenly takes a turn for the worse? Or if they get lost forever in the woods? Whilst Duckie thinks that every moment could be her last, the images paint quite a different picture: the story of a wonderful summer outing. Sometimes everything is just a question of state of mind...
